Sermon: Exodus 12:12-14 “Passover”

Torah Portion: Exodus 10:1-13:16

Discipleship:

Speak to all the congregation of Israel, saying, “On the tenth of their month they are each one to take a lamb for themselves, according to their father’s households, a lamb for each household.” (Exodus 12:3)

The Passover lamb was a sacrifice, but it was not a sacrifice for sin. In discussing the Passover lamb, the Torah does not mention anything about sin, confession or atonement. Not every kind of animal sacrifice was meant for taking away sin. The blood of the Passover lamb was meant as a sign for God.

Did God really need a sign? Didn’t He know which houses belonged to the Hebrews? Why did He need them to mark their houses with blood?

This can be compared to a father who told his son, “We are about to cross a busy street. Look both ways to see if any traffic is coming and tell me when it is safe to cross.” Surely the father did not need his son to tell him when it was safe to cross. He could see for himself. Why didn’t he Simply tell his son when it was safe? He desired to teach his son the necessary precautions because he knew that one day it might save his life.

In a similar way, God wanted to familiarize His people with the concepts of sacrifice and blood atonement, because one day their lives would depend on it. If it was just a matter of making a mark on the house, it would not have been necessary to use an unblemished lamb (one that is fit for sacrifice or even to use blood at all. The ritual of the lamb’s blood at Passover provided Israel with a marvelous object lesson to prepare all of us for understanding the atoning work of Jesus.

The story of the Passover lamb is foundational for understanding the gospel. Just as the Passover lamb needed to be unblemished and flawless, we need a sinless substitute to take our place in judgement. Just as the blood markings protected everyone in the house, we need to take shelter under the spilled blood of Messiah. Just as the firstborn of those who did not prepare a Passover lamb were struck down, so too, those outside of Messiah are without hope.
